The top seven strengths of our parish (in no particular order):

1. Our parish is a friendly, hospitable, warm and welcoming parish. There is a strong sense of community and fellowship.
2. We have a well-organized Worship Commission, which brings about active participation in the liturgy in many ways.
3. Our Parish Council, made up of the Finance Committee and Pastoral Council, is in place and involves parishioners in parish life and planning.
4. There is a good feeling about the RCIA process.
5. We are developing a sense of social ministry through various programs.
6. Stewardship of time and talent is good. Many are willing to serve the parish and the community.
7. There are faith sharing opportunities.

The top seven areas that challenge our parish (in no particular order):

1. We desire to form a genuine stewardship parish, encompassing all three areas of time, talent and treasure. Though the use of time and talent must be further tapped into, there is currently a pressing need for much greater financial stewardship.
2. We see the need for greater faith formation in all areas: Creed, Sacraments, Morality, Prayer, Biblical studies, Church, Liturgical, etc.
3. We hunger and thirst for a deeper and more profound spirituality.
4. We are eager to encourage and develop more servant-leaders in our parish and community.
5. We see the need to evangelize our community, but we do not know how to start or what to do. We are deeply concerned about doing all we can to help our families, parents, and children come to the fullness of the catholic faith. We would like to reach out to young adults and involve them more in parish life.
6. We see the need to foster liturgical renewal according to the mind of the Church, especially in the implementation of the new translations of the Roman Missal. We see the need to foster greater reverence in our liturgy.
7. In order to bring about the renewal and revival of our parish, there is a need for better communication in all aspects of parish life.
